Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Thank you for your letter about the research assistant.

As I told Howard, our graduate journalism students go through an intensive one-year program. Although your investigations are certainly stimulating subjects, their first commitment is to finishing the degree this summer. The pressures would make it too difficult for them to fulfill your needs and meet their own.

I have taken the liberty, however, of passing your letter along to our Dean, who might know of other students or a recent graduate who might fill the bill.

Your projects sound like exciting ones. Good luck.

Sincerely,

Lew Wolfson
